

FINGER PRINTS FOUND BY NEW YORK POLICE IN BOBE GEM THEFT

ENGINEER TAKEN IN CUSTODY

Miss Bobe's secretary, and demand of $100 for which he promised to reveal where the stolen gems were. Miss Flaherty communicated with police.

Flaherty, who was employed by a New York contractor, denied he had taken part in the Bobe robbery.

Police investigating his recent movements, comparing his fingerprints with others they have secured at the Bobe home, where the robbers spent some time in a day reveal making the place before Miss Bobe and her escort arrived to be robbed. They will see whether the negro must, Miss Bobe or Flaherty can identify him.

Miss Bobe has disappeared as the result, it is reported, of a mysterious telephone call which threatened her with the same fate of "Dot" King and Louise Lawson because of information she has given the police. She is presumed to have sought refuge in the home of a friend.

The police, in their investigations, were lashed by "Dot" King, a part of prominent persons who might have thrown light on the robbery, but secured many fingerprints in Miss Bobe's exclusive costume shop at No. 124 East 124 East 53d street.

Two nights before "Eddie," as they call her on Broadway, and her sister, Robert L. Hague, married.

WOMEN DISPLAYING JEWELS MARKED FOR PREY BY HI-JACKERS

THE METHODS USED BY THE SLAYERS OF DOT KING AND LOUISE LAWSON WERE THE SAME AS THOSE FOLLOWED BY THE ROBBERS OF EDDIE BOBE. MISS BOBE APPEARED LOADED WITH JEWELS AT A CAFE WHERE THE PRINCE OF WALES WAS EXPECTED.

MISS BOBE'S HOUSE WAS ENTERED BY MEN PRETENDING TO DELIVER PACKAGES. THEY GAGGED AND BOUND THE HAND AND THEN LIESURELY RUINED THE ROOMS.

AFTER SEVERELY BEATING HER ESCORT, THEY SWITCHED WITH RECKLESS AND GIVES AT THE LEAST SHOW OF RESISTANCE. SHE WOULD HAVE MET THE FATE OF DOT KING AND LOUISE LAWSON.

There was no hoarding in the white light district of "being an Eddie" tonight. Everyone concerned wanted to forget—no it wasn't.

Finger prints on bottles in the private bar maintained for her guests by "Eddie" gave the police their initial clues.

Prints on the arms of Louis XV chairs, in which the robbers hid while awaiting the return of the media and the Standard Oil official from another set. And these are the same, telling their own true tale.

The media's real name is Weeds, and she is said to be a daughter of a Detroit policeman. Months ago, when she ran a hat shop on 27th street, she frequented Louis Beach in the summer time.

the agreement, Ansel Straw called from the shop. J. Fred Mullin, who acted as chairman of the workers' delegates during the conference, Mullin said: "After hearing the facts relating to the textile industry today, the convention of Amoskeag workers voluntarily agreed among themselves to a temporary readjustment of wages for a period of six months."

The workers agreed to the amount of 10 per cent after conferences last forty-eight hours, during which leaders of the employees were in constant touch with their followers.

They refuse point blank to consider the 20 per cent cut originally intended, saying it would reduce the workers to the industrial status of the underpaid silk workers of the South.

There were nearly 200 delegates in conference with Mill Agent Straw and his assistants. They reported that while the bulk of the operatives were ready to take the 10 per cent cut, the operatives in the weaving and mechanical sections were opposed to any cut.

Twenty-five thousand mill operatives in Rhode Island, who have been reported on the verge of strike, may follow the lead of the Amoskeag workers and submit to compromise.

Thomas F. McMahon, president of the United Textile Workers of America, did not subscribe unreservedly to this opinion.

He described the situation in Rhode Island as of the hair trigger variety, particularly in the Manville-Jencks Company plants in Pawtucket, Manville, Greenville and Woonsocket, where he said a strike might start at any moment.

McMahon accused the Jencks powers of taking advantage of the rumored differences between the United Textile Workers and the Amoskeag Textile Workers.

"The intention supposed to exist between the Jencks and the United Textile Workers," he declared, "is that the latter will be used as a wedge to split the Jencks in the future."

M. L. HERSEY MADE MAJOR-GENERAL

Boston Officer, Born in Maine, Has Gave a Notch Higher

Brigadier-General Mark L. Hersey, commander of the First Coast Artillery District, with headquarters at the Army Base, since 1922, was promoted to the rank of Major-General. The promotion is effective September 26. It is expected that he will be assigned to another command.

The promotion was made as a result of the retirement of Major-General E. R. Babitt.

Prior to assuming his artillery command, Major-General Hersey was in command at Camp Devens for a year, and before that was attached in Washington.

He is a native of Maine, a graduate of West Point and the Army College, Washington, and holds three degrees from Bates College and the University of Maine.

During the war he was a Major-General with a division command.

The vacancy in the list of Brigadier-Generals will be filled by the promotion of Colonel William W. Harris on duty with the First Field Artillery at Madison Barracks, New York.

General Hersey's promotion was made possible by the vacancy caused by the retirement of Major-General Edwin Babitt, commanding at Camp Lewis, Washington, effective tomorrow, at his own request.

Pot of Gold and Many Flowers Await Airmen

Santa Monica, Cal., Sept. 15.—A shipload of flowers and a pot of gold await the army around the world scheduled to arrive here next week.

The cargo of blossoms gathered by residents of San Pedro will be only one phase of the mobilization of Southern California flowers which is expected to make the borders of Elmer Field, from which the airmen take off on their globe-grinding flight last March, a setting of colorful glory in honor of their return.

The lot of gold, symbolic of the rainbow's end, is being gathered by newspapers, banks and civic organizations of Southern California to be handed the Maginots of the air.

FIERY ENTHUSIASM NATURAL TO YOUTH, SAYS DARTMOUTH'S HEAD

Hopkins Quotes Emerson, Kipling, Kingsley and Loeb Trial in Welcome to Students

Hanover, N. H., Sept. 18.—Quoting Emerson, Kipling, Kingsley, and the records of the Loeb-Leopold murder case to his purpose, President Ernest Martin Hopkins of Dartmouth, made his annual welcome address to the returning students at the reopening of that College today.

He quoted from the records of the murder trial to indicate the unnatural effect of suppressed emotion in youth.

The particular emotion he alluded to was college loyalty, and he noted those who discouraged it among young men, and sought to give them in its place a crystal acid bias indicative of the modern age.

AIRPLANES BOMBING GREAT WALL OF CHINA

Tientsin, China, Sept. 18 (AP).—The eastern extremity of the Great Wall of China, once considered an adequate defense against Manchuria and Mongolia, was being pelted today from the air by Chang Tso-Lin's aviators from Mukden, principal city of Manchuria.

The aviators appeared over Shan-haiwan, mobilization point for the armies of General Wu Pei-Fu, military head of the Peking government, and started dropping bombs on the city at 8:30 o'clock this morning.

Reports received here from Shan-haiwan did not tell of the damage done.

Shan-haiwan, located midway between Peking and Mukden, divides Chihli Province from Manchuria. It contains a gate in the Chinese wall known in antiquity as "The First Gate of the Realm."

FARMHAND WANTED IN GIRL'S DEATH TRAILED

New Brunswick, N. J., Sept. 18.—Harvey Salchewer, roving farmhand and wanted for questioning in connection with the mysterious death of fifteen-year-old Elizabeth Johnson, was reported today to be hiding in New York city. There was a bullet wound in her head.

County Detective Fred A. David learned Salchewer was seen near Trenton on August 14, two days after her disappearance and nine days following Salchewer's discharge from her father's farm for paying no ardent attention to the school.

Salchewer is known to have written his mother in Spencer, Iowa, saying he expected to get a job on a Long Island farm.

The funeral of the slain girl was held today from Hubbard's morgue in New Brunswick.

WELSH COAL USED HERE BECAUSE OF COST IN U. S.

Atlanta City, Sept. 18 (U.S.).—Welsh coal is being used in New England because labor and transportation costs are kept high by unwieldy legislation, making it economically impossible to use American fuel, John D. Wynn, told the convention of the National Association here today.

Norwell criticized the big four brotherhoods of railroad workers as responsible in some degree for the unfavorable conditions because of their opposition to the new coal-seal agreement, which, he said, would aid in bringing about an even distribution of coal.

COOLIDGE REVIEWS QUANTICO MARINES

Washington, Sept. 18.—President Coolidge left his desk today to review the long file of Quantico, Va., marines, returning through here from their annual maneuvers near Frederick, Md. The line of march led through the White House grounds, with the President and Mrs. Coolidge and high officers of the Navy and Army reviewing the procession from the south portico.

LONELY AT 69, USES BULLET TO END LIFE

Alone in the world and doomed to spend his last years in an institution, Ernest Necker shot and killed himself today in his room in the German Home at No. 2223 Centre street, West Roxbury, A. C. Though he was sixty-nine years old,

THOMAS, THE BREADWINNER

Your Petty Woes Will Pale Into Insignificance When You Read of What She Has to Contend With

If you're in a black mood today because some little thing has gone wrong—forget it. Consider the case of Mrs. Margaret Hogan, who still is thankful in destitution that she has kept her family together at No. 293 Harrison avenue, Roxbury.

Mrs. Hogan's husband and the father of her five children is serving a term at Deer Island—the house of correction. She has been the mother of eleven children, although she is only thirty-four, but six have died.

The oldest child is in the seventh grade at the School for Cropped Children, St. Botolph street. He has only one leg and sells papers in Northampton street.

Thomas managed to save $15 to buy a wooden leg, but it had to go to provide bare necessities for the bare and under-provisioned home. Your disappointments are small, aren't they?

Another boy is eleven years old. He has only one eye. He has had only one since he was two years old when a boy threw a stone at him with deadly aim.

This boy had the thrill of a lifetime last Christmas when his school nurse, Miss Brown, gave him a glass eye to fill the staring socket. School nurses do not get fabulous salaries, but the glass eye cost Miss Brown eight or nine dollars.

There have been prayers whose whole Christmas was spoiled because they were presented with a six-cylinder car when they expected an eight-cylinder.

Little Catherine is only three months old—the cute and cunning age when a baby is lavished with all the dainties things that money can buy. It all depends on the family the baby is born into. Little Catherine hasn't even a blanket. The much needed coat of the mother covers the baby instead.

"But she's healthy, so I shouldn't complain," says the Roxbury mother, whose spouse is Harrison avenue.

Young men have been married seven years and since my marriage have known nothing but a life of struggle and unhappiness. My husband started to drink twelve years ago, but I have tried to put up with him for the sake of the children.

Three months ago he left the home to go to work and was missing over a week before I found that he had been sent to Deer Island for five months. He still has two months to serve.

"I hadn't a cent in the house. I had to pawn my wedding ring for $2, a bedspread for $1 and borrow $4 from my mother to pay the rent and buy food for the children."

"My oldest boy, Thomas, had his leg cut off below the hip a year ago last July. I gave a quart of my blood to save his life and had to scrape together $25 to pay for another quart. He sells papers and has done more for me than his father ever did. He was in the hospital nine months before he started selling papers, and still strong even now."

Scanning of Marriage Intentions Upsets Plans of Pawtucket Girl

An engaged couple has unwittingly attracted the curiosity of Miss Fay M. Caldwell, junior secretary of the Providence Chamber of Commerce, and Nicholas Babin, a chemist, when they scanned the marriage intentions of Pawtucket, R. I., last night.

The young couple had planned to be quietly married without informing friends and relatives. There was a quiet wedding. Now the publicity has quelled all our plans and we won't be married for some time. I never thought there was going to be any publicity.

The couple who served orders in the 10th Field Artillery, is said to be the son of a wealthy New York City. He is an expert chemist and is manager of the Katterfeld-Pinkerton Company at No. 100 Federal street. He is also known as a collector of antique furniture of note. He refused to discuss his business relations.

Prisoner Who "Slid" to Freedom Is Captured

ON CITY, Pa., Sept. 18.—Lawrence Edwards, who slid out of the Clinton County jail to freedom several days ago, by crawling his way through a window and dropping through a vine-covered trellis, was captured today by a patrolman.

He was captured near his home, Edinboro, about 10 miles from the jail, by a patrolman who had been looking for him for several days.

Edwards, who is 35 years old, was arrested on a charge of burglary, and was held in the jail for several days before he escaped.

WON'T PADLOCK WHERE OWNER IS INNOCENT

Court Decides to Issue Personal Injunctions in Two Liquor Cases

Justice Anderson in Federal Court today refused to issue padlock injunctions against two places, one in New Bedford and one in Lawrence, because there was nothing to show that the owners knew that liquor violations were taking place.

Assistant United States Attorney Street took issue with Judge Anderson, maintaining it was unnecessary to show that the owner was involved.

The Washington Social and Musical Club, with police quarters on Rodney French boulevard, in New Bedford, and numbering 2,000 leading New Bedford citizens on its rolls, was one of the places mentioned.

Justice Anderson issued personal injunctions against Thomas Roberts, president of the club; William H. Huddy, vice president; George H. Huddy, treasurer; Walter Huddy, secretary; and Edward Huddy and Frank Huddy, attendants.

He issued similar injunctions against Frank Gould and Joseph Huddy, proprietors of a grocery store, No. 34 Common street, Lawrence.

He refused to padlock a lot of Massachusetts retail stores unless it is clearly shown that the owner of the property is involved in the violation of the liquor laws.

DAVIS GETS BIG RECEPTION IN CHICAGO

Candidate Greeted by Cheering Thousands When He Arrives for Speech Tonight

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Fresh from his driving campaign through the West, John W. Davis, Democratic Presidential candidate, came here today to receive a tumultuous welcome from thousands gathered at the station and lining the streets for many blocks along the line of march.

Mr. Davis, who speaks tonight, was greeted by George H. Brennan, Illinois Democratic leader, and other party chieftains and escorted to a waiting automobile. There in the station cheered and began pressing about the candidate that police had difficulty in keeping a cordon for him.

From the station Mr. Davis was driven to City Hall, where he was welcomed by Mayor Dewar. Cheering crowds greeted him along the line of march and hundreds formed about his residence.

The candidate returned the salutations from those on the sidewalk and in the buildings lining the route. A wave of his hat, held in his left hand, since his right arm still is badly swollen from the "bullet" of rheumatism, where on Monday he shook hands with thousands at the Missouri State Democratic rally.

From City Hall Mr. Davis was driven to his hotel, where he began his conference. After conferring with Illinois and Indiana leaders he returned to his room in preparation for his address tonight.

DEADLY BOMB HURLED AT POLISH PRESIDENT
Warsaw, Sept. 18 (A.P.)—It is established that, contrary to the first reports, the bomb thrown at President Wojciechowski at Lemberg on September 17 was not merely a mild explosive one but was filled with the most dangerous explosive, a slight defect in the fuse preventing its detonation.

This was brought out when the Jewish student, Stanislaw Strum, who was seized while running from the scene, after being a court on a charge of throwing the missile.

The court received a message from a secret Ukrainian communist organization declaring that the bomb was thrown by one of its members.

LA FOLLETTE PREDICTS POLITICAL UPHEAVAL

Madison, Wis., Sept. 18.—Senator Robert M. La Follette, independent candidate for President, in a signed article in his magazine today wrote "Day by day it becomes more and more apparent that victory is within the grasp of the progressive element of this country, and that November 4 will witness a political upheaval resulting to the American people the control of their own government. Reports from every section of the country bring us encouragement to the progressive forces."

BELL RINGERS OF 1924 ARE BACKING LA FOLLETTE
Lansing, Mich., Sept. 18.—About 75 women belonging to the house of the recently formed Independent Progressive party launched a new organization here today to form the Liberty Bell Ringers of 1924. Mrs. Julia Finch of Grand Rapids, Mich., was named president and Mrs. Edith Phelan, West Lansing, secretary.

Hurt in Crash

REV. PHILIP J. O'DONNELL, Pastor of St. James' Church, narrowly escaped serious injury in automobile collision in New York.

The Rev. Father Philip J. O'Donnell, pastor of St. James' Church on Madison avenue, suffered injuries to his face when his automobile figured in a three-cornered automobile crash on the Manhattan bridge, New York City.

A taxicab and another automobile came together on the bridge and Father O'Donnell's car, driven by John H. Curran of No. 345 Auburn street, Cambridge, crashed into the wreckage of the other machines before Curran could apply his brakes.

Father O'Donnell's nose was injured, while a passenger in the taxicab was also injured. The priest's injuries are not regarded as serious.

WOMAN IS FINED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

It may not have been Mrs. Anna Swails' lifelong desire to serve a new niche for herself in the hall of fame as one of the many "first women" but came it today she did.

The only "first" was that if cost Mrs. Swails, who lives on the Ferry Farm, Plymouth, an expensive six-cylinder car and $100 for the honor, achieving the distinction of being the first woman convicted in Boston's federal courts for transporting liquor.

But if it cost Mrs. Swails plenty, it cost her husband a bit more for his conviction, also in Judge Anderson's session. The husband, Thomas, put his big seven-passenger car and $500 as a fine. Now the Swails garage doesn't look the same at all.

Husband and wife were each driving their own car when Prohibition Agent Edward P. Gille was unseated at Barnum, down at the Cape Cod Canal.

actions of the tragically before their eyes.

The girl fell to the sidewalk moaning and crying, and her condition was noted by several women, who summoned Patrolman Fuzan.

She was carried into a store entrance pleading "let me die," and later was taken to the Haymarket Hotel Hospital. Physicians said that her condition was critical, but that she probably would live.

"I am Rose McNell, eighteen years old," she said.

She said she lived at No. 37 Cypress street, Watertown, although people living at that address later denied they ever heard of her.

When asked why she attempted suicide she refused to talk, beyond saying that sorrow had entered her life, and she would be better off dead.

According to the policeman, the girl drank a bottle full of poison of a violent nature, but the poison has not yet been identified.

LA FOLLETTE TO OPEN FIGHT TONIGHT

Makes First Speech of His Campaign in Madison Square Garden

Washington, Sept. 18.—Senator La Follette, independent candidate for President, timed his departure today for New York to address a Madison Square Garden rally tonight so that he would reach his destination just before the meeting.

The speech is the first to be addressed by him to an audience since he became a presidential candidate. Mr. La Follette declared he was in excellent physical trim for his initial platform effort.

He was undecided whether he would return to Washington tomorrow, going back to New York Sunday to address the Stinson Society, or remain in the metropolis over the week-end.

While in New York Mr. La Follette expects to confer with a number of supporters, among them President Comptroller of the American Federation of Labor, whom he has not seen since the Federation's executive council endorsed the candidature of himself and his running mate, Senator Wheeler of Montana.

La Follette expects now to start out about October 1 on an extended tour. Indications today were that one of his first addresses will be in New Jersey, probably in Newark.

GEORGIAN CHURCH HEAD EXECUTED BY SOVIET
Paris, Sept. 18 (A.P.)—The Georgian legation in Paris, which is receiving reports of the revolutionary movement against the Soviet regime in the Republic of Georgia, announced today that the Georgian Metropolitan Nansel had been executed at Kutais by Russian Soviet troops.

The churchman, the legation declared, was 66 years of age and ill. An announcement by the Legation on the military features of the revolutionary movement said: "Armored trains, tanks and airplanes are continuing to arrive in Georgia from Russia. The Bolsheviks are masters of the main railroad line from Batumi to Tiflis and the cities and towns the line crosses."

DISABLED VETS TRANSFERRED LATE TODAY

Party of Fifty to Be Taken by Motor Trucks to Hospital in Beacon, N. Y.

Fifty disabled World War veterans are to be transferred today to contract hospitals in Massachusetts to the new government sanatorium at Beacon, N. Y. The sanatorium, which was opened on Monday, has 410 beds and is equipped with all latest improvements.

Today's transfers are the first from this section and will be followed by others as vacancies in the hospital at Beacon, N. Y., permit. Those in charge of the Veterans' Bureau at Washington plan to transfer soldier patients from contract hospitals to government hospitals as rapidly as accommodations are available.

FROM THREE COUNTIES
In this manner disabled veterans will be collected eventually in government hospitals and sanatoriums and expense correspondingly reduced. Furthermore, the type of hospitals like that at Beacon are specially equipped for the comfort and convenience of the veterans.

The fifty who will go to Beacon, N. Y., late today are from Essex County, Norfolk County and Plymouth County contract hospitals. Twenty-one are from Essex County. Those who desired and were able to travel prior to their transfer. A Pullman coach has been hired for the special use of the disabled veterans. This was advertised at Hawthorne early today, about a mile from Essex County Hospital.

TO TRANSFER ALL

The disabled veterans will be conveyed by motor from the hospital to the Pullman coach, which will be run into Beacon in time to be attached on a train leaving South station at 4:30 p. m. The veteran patients from Norfolk and Plymouth hospitals are to report at the Veterans' Bureau in Beacon at 8 o'clock. A railroad will be held after which all, including those on furlough, will go to the Pullman coach.

DR. DUFF'S CONDITION

STILL IS CRITICAL

At the Carney Hospital the condition of Dr. John Duff of Chelsea, Mass., was unchanged and still critical today. He has been ill for a long time, and was taken to the hospital for an operation last week.

WANTS TO BE OF EXPERT TRADE BOOSTERS

An industrial economic advisory commission, with a reasonable appropriation, to study the New England situation, is suggested by John S. Lawrence, chairman of the New England Week committee, as a result of his experience.

In response to a letter written by Mayor James M. Curley, Mr. Lawrence says he would like to see the six New England governors get together and appoint an industrial board that would look out for the interests of this area.

He also said it will be impossible to continue the New England Week committee as a volunteer organization and hopes a permanent organization will result from the movement.

MAYOR'S PLAN PLEASANT

Mr. Lawrence's letter is an endorsement of the mayor's suggestion. His letter to the mayor follows:

"I want to thank you for your letter of the 15th, and for your cooperation and interest in this important situation. I will present your letter to the next meeting of the New England Week committee."

"I hope that a permanent organization will result from the movement. It will be impossible to continue it as a volunteer organization."

"Personally, I should like to see the six governors create an economic advisory commission, with a reasonable appropriation, to study the sound economic of New England situation, and to give publicity through the press to sound economic which are essential to our prosperity."

"JOHN S. LAWRENCE, Chairman."

NEAR HALF MILLION MARK

The New England Week, official organization of New England Week committee, which costs ten cents to join, has been endorsed by leading officials of the big fraternal orders.

Among those who have endorsed the organization are: Edward J. Brennan, State Deputy, Massachusetts; John S. Lawrence, Chairman, Duffin H. Forrell, Grand Master, Massachusetts; Order of Masons and Dr. G. H. Mason, Grand Master, L. O. O. F. of Massachusetts.

Members of the "New" is expected to reach the half million mark and growing daily. The goal of the membership committee, headed by Governor Mayor John F. Fitzgerald is one million members. The ex market hopes that mark will be reached before next Saturday, when New England Week closes.

SPAIN READY TO END WARFARE IN MOROCCO

London, Sept. 15. (U.S.A.)—It was announced today that the Spanish Directory is desirous of entering into immediate negotiations with British leaders of the rebellious Riff tribes in Morocco, in the hope of ending the war, according to a despatch to the Daily Times from Tangier. Spain was declared to be ready to abandon large portions of Morocco.

CHIEF DALEY HEADS STATE FIREMEN'S BODY

Boston, Sept. 15.—Chief William F. Daley of the fire department was today elected president of the Massachusetts State Firemen's Association, which has just concluded its annual convention here.

This afternoon there was a parade, with 5,000 men in line, and with every bit of apparatus in Brockton in the procession. The Brockton firemen were all in working clothes, ready to roll on an alarm as if they were in their respective fire stations.

2 INJURED AS AUTO SKIDS IN MIDDLETON

Middleton, Sept. 15.—A touring car, owned by John W. Norris of 1131 1/2 street, Lynn, operated by Fred G. Chavannah of Cedar street, Lynn, skidded in the car tracks, striking a post near Middlebury street and turning turtle. Miss Louise Mahoney, Spencer street, Lynn, a passenger in the car, sustained a broken collarbone, and James Mullins of Lynn, another passenger, was taken to the Lynn Hospital with a broken leg. The other two escaped.

WOUNDED PATROLMAN IN CRITICAL CONDITION

News that Patrolman David M. McManus of the East Dedman street station would survive the bullet wound he received at the hands of a woman last Monday was shattered when City Hospital doctors announced that he had taken a turn for the worse and as a late hour was pronounced and almost at the point of death.

DEATH PENALTY LOOMING FOR RUM PIRATE

American Taken in Paris for Looting Steamer of Its Cargo of Bicardi

Paris, Sept. 15.—An amazing story of piracy on the high seas has been told the streets near of Jerome Phaff, an American by nationality, whom the French police declare to be the master mind of a pirate gang flying a "Jolly Roger" at the masthead and who looted the cargo of Bicardi rum from the French steamer Mithras off the coast of Long Island last June.

The pirate ring, controlled by wealthy French rumrunners and "hempage" manufacturers, took the Mithras case to the French government and demanded the protection of the French flag.

The whole power of the French Security Generals was directed to discover the gang. The loose interest also called to a skilled American private detective. It was the American sleuth who finally discovered Phaff at a Paris hotel and arrested him, despite protestations of innocence.

The police declare that Phaff, who is German born, was the skipper of the yacht which first accosted the Mithras, offering to buy the cargo at a fixed price. When the Mithras reached the rendezvous she was surrounded by other yachts and attacked and looted.

If the charges are sustained Phaff will be the first man tried in France for piracy in seventy years. The penalty is death.

AUTO FOUND IN HOLE; OWNER ARRESTED

The police of the Back Bay were investigating into the circumstances surrounding an automobile accident at the corner of St. Mary's and Beacon streets, Back Bay, early today.

The automobile owned by George T. Hanway of No. 1940 Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge, was found torn to shreds in an excavation at the junction of the two streets.

When officers first came upon the automobile there was no one near the scene. A short time later Hanway made his appearance and claimed ownership of the vehicle.

The officer guarding the wreck placed Hanway under arrest on a charge of larceny.

DANVERS FAMILY OF
FIVE HURT IN CRASH

Lowell, Sept. 15.—Mr. and Mrs.
Arthur Sullivan of No. 11 Congress street, Danvers, and their three children were injured when their automobile was overturned and turned over on Lake street by a New Hampshire car that did not stop.

The Sullivan family was taken to the Thomas Hospital in Portland.

Mrs. Sullivan, who is in delicate health, sustained abrasions about the body, and Mr. Sullivan received a broken right rib. Ruth, aged 9, was the most seriously injured, her right thigh being broken. Arthur, 6 years, sustained injuries to the back, and Lawrence sustained abrasions about the body.

BOOTLEG ESCAPES JAIL
BY PROMISE TO QUIT

A two-months' jail term put Harry Fine out of business today as a liquor seller, even though he was not sent away.

After paying fines of $150 in East Boston court on charges of keeping and exposing liquor and conducting a liquor business, Fine raised his right hand and promised Judge Lane he would close up his establishment at Neptune road and Huntington street in the heart of one of East
Boston's best residential districts.

Judge Lane then suspended the sentence.

WASHINGTON YOUTH NOW ASKS TO SAVE HIS LIFE

Washington, Sept. 15 (U.N.S.)— Lips for a life sentence instead of death on the gallows were requested today in the house of 22-year-old Sugar Randolph Perry, who has been a prisoner in the District Jail since he killed an aged woman four years ago.

Perry has been tried and condemned to death, but the outcome of the Leopold Loeb case in Chicago has given his attorneys to urge a rehearing for the youth, confident that Judge Caverly's decision will stand as a precedent for extending greater clemency to Perry. The appeal will be taken up by the District of Columbia Supreme Court next month.

EXCHANGE SUSPENDS DAY & HEATON FIRM

New York, Sept. 15.—The brokerage firm of Day & Heaton, one of the oldest members of the New York stock exchange, was suspended today for failure to meet its obligations. The firm has been a member of the exchange since September 1, 1911. Members of the firm are Harry
V. Day, W. W. Heaton and William Wilson Heaton, who holds seats on the stock exchange, and George H.
Christian, James H. Waterbury and
P. W. Griffin.

CONDEMNED KLAN AND FAVORS WINE AND BEER

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 15.—With indications of a contest for the nomination for Governor, and the remainder of the ticket uncertain, the Democratic State Convention met here today. After voting out its difference, the Convention united in favor of the nomination of Charles O. Morris, a New Haven lawyer and Yale graduate, to head the State ticket.

The platform adopted condemned the Ku Klux Klan by name "as the most un-American thing in America," and favors modification of the Volstead Law and the State Enforcement Act.

GROVELAND AUTOIST GETS 4 MONTHS IN JAIL

Lawrence, Sept. 15 (U.N.S.)— Arnold McLaughlin of Groveland today was sentenced by Judge Walsh in Superior Court, to four months in jail for operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor, and for operating after his license had been suspended.

DEATH TOLL IN MINE BLAST REACHES 38

Kennecott, Wyo., Sept. 15 (U.N.S.)—
The death toll in the blast that wrecked mine No. 5 of the Kennecott Coal Company at Sules, near here, today was definitely placed at 38 by H. J. Quinby, president of the company. He said fifty men were in the workings when the explosion occurred. Of these, 12 made their way to safety alive. Twenty-seven bodies, the majority showing signs of having been burned have been brought to the surface.

Is it true that tastes are partly mental?

Is it true that many people think coffee is good because it has a great reputation?

Or, is there an indefinable something about a coffee which makes you like it better than any other coffee you ever tried?

Taste, we believe, is a sense that cannot be standardized. Personal preference, we believe, is just as subject to popular fancy as is a style that Paris sets.

You know what BEST means from that standpoint. But applied to coffee, it means satisfaction all around:

—that which folks talk about;

—that which makes it necessary to serve another cup;

—that which leads a housewife to say: "It IS the BEST—and I serve it because it is."

We, as creators of La Touraine Coffee, have only a friendly battle with others who offer coffee.

There are human desires sufficient to earn a living for all who have coffee to sell.

And there are other GOOD coffees, too.

We can never hope that EVERYBODY will prefer La Touraine Coffee, although millions do.
And the number is constantly increasing daily.
It would take the "pep" out of life and business
if everybody thought the same.

What the House of Quinby is trying—successfully—to accomplish is to—Buy up to the highest standard of quality. Blend up to the highest standard of quality. Roast up to the highest standard of quality. AND KEEP THAT STANDARD UNIFORM.

And so, we'll rest our case—

Upon how YOU like the results of the famous La Touraine formula—a secret formula known only to a handful of men—a formula from which the House of Quinby never deviates in putting into La Touraine Coffee that INDEFINABLE
SOMETHING which has made it the BEST coffee in the opinion of so many millions of people.

We cannot tell you as much about La Touraine Coffee as La Touraine Coffee can tell you about itself—when you try it.

Will you do that? Once?

And see if you agree with us when we say—
"YOU MIGHT AS WELL HAVE THE BEST."

You might as well have the best

MASONS URGED NOT TO MIX IN POLITICS

Scottish Rite Head Defines Attitude in Copley-Plaza Speech

Without directly naming the Ku Klux Klan, the local order was attacked by Sovereign Grand Commander Loren M. Abbott before the Scottish Rite Masons of the North American Jurisdiction, now in session at the Copley-Plaza hotel.

"Bodies of the Scottish Rite in this jurisdiction must not be permitted to become the forum for the discussion of politics or religious questions," the sovereign grand commander declared in his address. "I can conceive of nothing more dangerous to the complete and per-

The ALL GAS Kitchen

What is the ALL GAS KITCHEN?
THE All-Gas Kitchen is one in which all the important operations are done with the help of gas. The cooking is done with a Cabinet Gas Range. All hot water is heated by a Gas Water Heater. If there is no radiator connected with the boiler in the cellar a Gas Steam Radiator furnishes warmth during cold weather.

In the ALL-GAS KITCHEN there is no coal range to use up space, make dirt and cause work. The coal range is banished in favor of the clean, efficient and dependable fuel used in modern time-saving gas appliances.

You Do the Choosing
You make up your own ALL-GAS KITCHEN—adding what you need, or choosing any make or model you prefer of range or heater. Any of our Sales Offices will help you choose the right equipment for your particular needs.

Often the ALL-GAS KITCHEN can be planned to utilize whatever gas appliances are already there—with, perhaps, one additional appliance. One dollar puts in any cabinet range in our stock. Several-five cents puts in a double hot water heater. Let us put in a gas steam radiator for you. Ask us about it today.

TOWER DENIES CHARGES BY RELATIVE

Declares He Was Not Unfriendly With Woman Hits Other Charges

Walter E. Tower of No. 4 Landon street, Roxbury, business agent of State, Title and Computation Union No. 23, against whom his father-in-law, J. P. Shaw, hotel man, of No. 51 Tremont street, Cambridge, has brought contempt proceedings alleging that Tower was unfriendly toward other women, today denied this and other charges brought against him.

The Towers have four children, ranging in age from eleven months to eight years. Mrs. Tower alleges her husband left her in July and has since refused to support her. Tower said:

"There is no truth in the statement that I have been intimate with another woman for two years and that I had brought her rival to see her while she was in a hospital following the birth of a child. I did send an intimate friend of hers to see her, but this woman was not my rival."

"The statement that I had neglected to pay my wife $100 weekly towards the support of her and the children as ordered by the Suffolk Probate Court is also untrue. Inasmuch as I have already paid her about $175 by postal money orders, the receipt of which I hold, since she left me."

"The correct name of my father is not 'J. P. Shaw' by which he is known, but John Frank Healy, as given in my marriage license and her mother's name Hannah E. Gile. He objected to the real name on the grounds of being objectionable. I consider as her charge of my being unfaithful is concerned, I may charge her with being unfaithful with an official of a chain store."

MOVIE ORGANIST, 29, TO WED RICH WIDOW, 81

Norfolk, Sept. 18 (N.A.S.)—Some time ago a wedding ceremony will be performed here to unite John M. Ward Griffith, twenty-nine, organist in a Norfolk movie theatre, and Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Gray, eighty-one, wealthy widow of John A. Gray, formerly of Washington.

Unable to obtain a marriage license in Norfolk court because of the disparity in their ages, the pair went to Portsmouth and secured the necessary paper.

Griffith declared it was a case of "true love," and that he had courted the widow two years, after meeting her while playing in a Washington picture house.

FINE JUNKMAN $20 IN HARVARD "LAB" RAID

An ingenious junkman enticed off his traps, battery power and other bits of apparatus used in the experimental laboratories at Harvard, it developed today. Important experiments have been delayed as a result.

Abram Goldstein of No. 489 Beacon avenue, Malden, was in East Cambridge district court today, charged with being the predatory junkman. He pleaded not guilty, saying he was given permission to take the stuff. The court thought differently and he was fined $20 and given a six months suspended sentence.

Osgood's Golden Jubilee FIFTIETH ANNUAL Fall Clearance Sale

This, the greatest sale of furnishings ever planned in America started with a rush on Monday morning, and is now, as it deserves to be, in full swing. Osgood's Fall Clearance Sale—the fiftieth of its kind—needs no introduction or excuse. It is a big full-blooded American event, backed by a reputation of a half century of honest values, and not in any way dependent upon "Gifts," Premiums or the like.

Osgood's Sale prices are always the lowest at which Dependable Quality Merchandise can be sold, and to pretend to offer more by way of "extras" inducements would be to question the intelligence of our people. Osgood's will deliver more for your money than any firm we know of. And yours that!

This Tuxedo shows well-built shoulders; narrower at the hips, a suggestion of a waist line; wider trousers

The two-button coat in the background shows the wider button spacing, one of the new fall notes.

This suit has the smart college flavor; substantial shoulders; freedom in the coat and trousers; wide cuffs

Most young men know how difficult it is to define style in clothes. A suit may look right, measurements correct, proper number of buttons, but the style isn't there; the suit hasn't "got it."

Young men have a practised eye for these things; they see them; so do we

You want a coat that suggests good shoulders, that hangs easily with just a slight snugness at the hips; a waistcoat that hugs in a trifle at the belt line;

trousers that sit tight at the waist and drop full and easy to a wider cuff and cuffs must fall over the oxford just right at the heel and instep

You want distinction in the weave and pattern of the fabrics. You want color that is a bit unusual.

You want good tailoring and value

You'll find all of these things in our clothes for fall

The style in this coat is in the easy way it hangs, flowing into the natural lines of the figure.

Copyright, 1924, Harg Schädler & Mann

The double-breasted suit is in favor with many young men; looks good too; note this one

Movie Star Carries Out Friend's Wish; Weds Widower

CLAIRE ADAMS

Selected by Benjamin H. Hampton's first wife as his second mate, the movie star did not take the suggestion seriously at the time. Neither did Hampton.

WED TO GIRL DYING WIFE SELECTED

THE ADAMS SISTERS, who have been in the spotlight since the death of their mother, Claire Adams, beautiful 24-year-old actress, state today that Benjamin H. Hampton, wealthy producer and a former associate of the late John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has selected Claire Adams as his second wife. He is forty-eight years old and has five children. The couple will marry later today in New York.

When Mrs. Hampton was a girl she underwent an operation, which she had been told would never fail, and she had been told that she would never have her mother's face again.

Neither Hampton nor Mrs. Adams took the suggestion seriously. Two years elapsed and Hampton began to feel that he was not getting on with his wife. He was then told that she would never have her mother's face again.

He then married her and she was told that she would never have her mother's face again.

He then married her and she was told that she would never have her mother's face again.

CLAPP GOADED TO KILL SELF BY REMORSE

Hampton told the Court, with some of the details of his life, that he was a very young man when he met Mrs. Adams. He was then a very young man when he met Mrs. Adams. He was then a very young man when he met Mrs. Adams.

SPORTING AMERICAN

DETROIT OUT OF RACE

Not a race and even more so than the one at the track.

That's the way it was in the American League, where the New York Yankees and Washington Senators were in a hard, desperate struggle for the most remarkable feat in baseball—a pennant in a pennant year.

The Yankees, who had won the pennant in 1923, were in a position to win it again in 1924. They had a record of 94 wins and 58 losses, while the Senators had 88 wins and 64 losses.

Just took another winner on Moe's long list. The Wise lad slapped a thousand mugs on Blind Play yesterday and wrapped up six hundred and fifty smackers, which brings his pile up to $16,855.21. This afternoon he is sending it in a baby that Joe Dowling has been whispering about for some days. Let's go.

When Will You Own Your Own House?

How Often Do You Plan About Getting Out Into the Country, and Really Living, Instead of Existing in a City?

Again—for the hundredth time at least—we advise readers to own a piece of ground, build a house on it, and live on it.

Some have taken this advice, bought the WRONG piece of ground, and regret it. Many have chosen the right spot and are glad of it.

Even the most unfortunate selection, the least profitable purchase, is a GOOD AND PROFITABLE FACT IN THE LONG RUN IF IT TAKES THE FAMILY FROM THE CITY TO THE COUNTRY.

Buy some ground and OWN your own home. Get away from paved streets and city dust and a life that is bad for you and bad for your children.

Get out where you can see the sun in the daytime and the stars at night, where your children can grow up, noticing the change of the seasons, realizing that such things exist as Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter.

A man living in a city is nothing but a prisoner, free in name.

You can still buy land very cheap. You can get enough for a house and a small garden and a few chickens and some flowers, and you can have a house built with the aid of a building association or otherwise—and the whole thing in the end won't cost you as much as your rent costs now.

The man who owns his own house, who owns the roof over his head and the ground under his feet, whose children have a place that they choose as their own, give to himself and to his family a chance a thousand times better than that of the individual who is living in a box called an "apartment."

Don't buy land now, unless you CAN LIVE ON THAT LAND NOW.

Don't let a real estate agent take you in an automobile and show you something "very desirable" if you know that you can't afford an automobile and couldn't take time to walk to the land.

Get near a railroad or a good street car system. Don't grudge an hour or an hour in the afternoon if necessary to take you from your house to your business and back again.

An hour in the morning and an hour in the afternoon can well be spent thinking, reading and planning.

The man who can't use two hours of solitude each day wisely is to be pitied.

Be cautious when you buy, look all around, walk to the place and walk back the full distance to the railroad station or to the trolley.

Go at the thing very slowly. Go and look at the place two or three times. Go at least once ENTIRELY ALONE, without any agent to bring an enticing song into your ear.

Don't buy what you can't afford to pay for. But remember that if you are making a decent salary, that is to say, if you are really able to pay the average rent, you are ALSO ABLE TO PAY AND GRADUALLY BUY THE HOME AND OWN IT.

Be cautious, conservative, keep within your means, BUT OWN YOUR OWN HOME IF YOU CAN.

And then work with others for the best big reform that ought to come in this country, namely, ABSOLUTE FREEDOM FROM TAXATION FOR THE HOME IN WHICH A MAN RAISES HIS FAMILY—PROVIDING THE HOME DOESN'T COST MORE THAN $3,000.

If we can exempt incomes of $4,000 a year from the Income Tax, certainly we ought to be able to exempt the house that costs only $5,000, a house in which a man is bringing up children, in which he lives and which he does not use for profit, from all taxation of every kind whatever.

How Character Is Revealed

In a Thousand Ways We Express Our Real Characters Without Knowing It

A wise old man, advising someone younger, said, in substance:

"If you want to study a man's character, STUDY THE LITTLE THINGS ABOUT HIM."

He big things a man is careful and on his guard. He is trying to create an impression and you can't find out what he really is.

"But in little things he is careless and reveals his true self."

If you, the reader, want to know anything about a man—your employee or the man who thinks you—just notice him carefully when he doesn't think you is noticed and when he is not "on parade."

In India, as you perhaps know, lawyers cross-examine poor people on their oath always watch their TOES.

The polite gentleman of India can lie and commit perjury with a perfectly straight face. His eyes reveal nothing. But—so the lawyers say—when he tells a lie he wriggles his toes, which gives the examiner the information he wants.

A good many Americans probably wriggle their toes, sometimes, under the same circumstances, but as they wear shoes the wriggling does no good to the person studying them.

A man's attitude toward his inferiors, those that can do him no good, from whom he expects nothing, reveals his character perhaps better than anything else. Hardness of heart, lack of real kindness, is thus unconsciously betrayed by the man who would pose as a high moral character.

In card games, where small sums are bet, others show their weakness. As somebody has said:

"All any man who plays cards fears most and he will say, 'bright's disease,' thinking of HIMSELF. All any woman and she will say, 'slightest,' thinking of HER CHILDREN."

The study of character is really very complicated, and yet it is neglected to a great extent by a majority of us. That is because our faculties of perception are weakened.

We live in CROWDS, dressing, talking, acting, looking very much alike. We are employed in great numbers working along the same lines. Our lives are relatively safe—give us a few dollars per year so long as we live and we have nothing else to bother us.

Consequently, we are losing INDIVIDUALITY, while gaining COMMONPLACE, perhaps, and other qualities.

There is more individuality, more faculty of perception in one savage, trained by necessity to study the character and intentions of every man that approaches him, than in a thousand civilized white men.

MRS. SOLOMON SAYS

By HELEN ROWLAND

WHAT IS THIS, O MY DAUGHTER, AND PRISTINE BEAUTY WITH LEAVING CARE. And not even the pleadings of all his wretchedness persuade him to do them, save upon six occasions and days of state and Saturday evenings.

Behold, a man of folk who is at home in times of relaxation and his companions in sport, yet the rain may fall upon them, the man may feel them and his wife may berate them, and he is not worth.

His friends are the pride of his life, the envy of his enemies and the admiration of his admirers, yet he flinches them across a chair at night and weathers them without thought by day.

But when he wears his WHITE TROUSERS, then doth he walk in such of honor and pride and cleanliness. No chair escapes his attention and no bench is good enough for him to sit upon.

Votary, a daimed may rumple up a man's hair and defile his coat lapel with his powder. She may wash years upon his Tuxedo and step upon his patent leather pumps. But let her see him in his WHITE TROUSERS, and he is not worth.

For the child shall not be forgiven! And the ultimate proof of any man's love is this: that he shall fall upon his knees to a woman when he wears his WHITE TROUSERS.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis.

SOON the flowers will fall asleep. And in the forest dim re-echo will blow, little hints of Autumn creep through the summer's glow. Power buds are on the rose, down the woodland slides here a scarlet maple sings, there a sumac smiles. In the forest's shaded ways, 'neath a leafy bough, the liquid larks of the morning bird, Summer's peeping all can tell it will not be long until time will break the April, banish bloom and song. Little children by the sea there's a rustle and a low voice, the little girls and boys are on the sand, their bright eyes are on the sand, their bright eyes are on the sand, they know the time at hand lessons have to go back to school again.

FRENCH AUTHOR ON ART OF DYING

By DR. FRANK CRANE

A FRENCH author, Abbe Bruguerette, has issued a volume on the art of dying.

Without having read the book I have much fault to find with it.

In the first place, no one should write of the art of anything unless he has practiced it at least to some extent. Unless the Abbe Bruguerette is the reincarnation of Lazarus, or some other dead man, we do not understand how he could have gone through the experience.

The question remains whether dying is an art at all.

In the theatre and the novel it is an art, perhaps, for much depends upon the way it is carried out. Also the historian has to deal with death in an artistic way.

But in real life, dying is a matter of improvisation and no amount of learning can render one perfect at it. It is usually a very disagreeable and sometimes a very anguishing performance. It can be disguised a good deal for the sake of the people around, but nothing can conceal the fact from one's self.

It is much more important to write upon the art of living, which is a difficult matter, one which has been tried many times, upon which we have abundant experiment, and which remains a mystery.

Dying is simply quitting the business of living. It is the end of life, its conclusion, and if one knows how to live well, the dying will take care of itself.

Perhaps, however, the art of living and the art of dying is exactly the same thing.

If one believes in the future life there is no art in dying except the art of preparing for a future existence, and the best way to prepare for the future is to improve the present.

The same conclusion is reached by one who does not believe in the future life. Often a religion is of value to us only as it increases the importance and induces us to accept the responsibility of this life. A religion that looks wholly beyond the grave is of little value to the living.

RENEWED INTEREST IN BACON'S WORK

By Garrett P. Serviss

"WHY HE RATES IT SOON."

The old saying has a present application in the universal revival of interest in the character and work of the great Francis Bacon, the three hundredth anniversary of the publication of whose book on the "Proficiency and Advancement of Learning," was celebrated in 1924.

It is astonishing to find that a book which probably not one reader in a thousand in our time has ever looked at, it has been said by competent judges that its publication revolutionized science and gave the impulse to whose development we owe the marvelous advancement of modern knowledge.

In the eyes of many of its present admirers Bacon appears as almost, if not quite, the greatest thinker who has lived within historic time. Dr. Mark H. Liddell, of Purdue University, in a paper read to the American Association, has shown how Bacon prepared the way for Newton, and laid the foundations on which the vast structure of scientific research is now every day rising higher.

In the eyes of many of its present admirers Bacon appears as almost, if not quite, the greatest thinker who has lived within historic time. Dr. Mark H. Liddell, of Purdue University, in a paper read to the American Association, has shown how Bacon prepared the way for Newton, and laid the foundations on which the vast structure of scientific research is now every day rising higher.

It is astonishing to find that a book which probably not one reader in a thousand in our time has ever looked at, it has been said by competent judges that its publication revolutionized science and gave the impulse to whose development we owe the marvelous advancement of modern knowledge.
